Judge Terry Dead.

Shot Down By a United States Marshal

IN A RAILWAY DINING ROOM

After He Had Slapped the Face of United States Justice Field.—The Killing the Outcome of the Famous Hilt-sharon Divorce Case.

LATHROP, Cal., Aug. 15.—The southern overland train arrived here at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and the passengers alighted for breakfast. Judge Stephen J. Field and Deputy Marshal Nagle walked into the dining room and sat down for breakfast side by side. Judge David S. Terry and wife, who figured in the Sharon divorce case, came in also. They were going to another table when Mrs. Terry recognized Justice Field, and immediately retired to the train for some unknown purpose.

DAVID S. TERRY.

As soon as she had left the dining room and before she had reached the train Justice Field sat, and stooping over him slapped his face. Deputy Marshal Nagle thereupon arose from his seat and shot Judge Terry through the heart. While he was falling Nagle shot again but missed him, the bullet going through the floor. Both shots were fired within a few seconds and before any one could interfere.

The judge after being shot fell to the floor and never uttered a sound. He had scarcely fallen when Mrs. Terry rushed into the room and threw herself on the body. People rushed from the room while others rushed in, and the wildest excitement prevailed. Justice Field and Deputy Marshal Nagle retreated to a sleeping car, where they were securely locked in. In the meantime Mrs. Terry kept constantly calling for the arrest of the two men. Constable Walker, before the train pulled out, entered the sleeper and was carried away on board the train, shouting to the spectators that he knew his duty and would perform it.

While the train was standing at the depot Mrs. Terry kept running from the body of her husband to the sleeper, demanding admittance in order that she might slap Justice Field's face. Before the appearance of Sheriff Walker in the sleeper Sheriff Purvis and a deputy from Stanislaus county had taken charge of Deputy Marshal Nagle.

If Judge Terry had intended to provoke Justice Field and draw a weapon before the latter could turn, is, of course, not known, as Deputy Nagle, who sat opposite, prevented this by firing, resulting in the instant death of Terry.

After the shooting Deputy United States Marshal Nagle backed up against the wall of the dining room and warned every one not to arrest him, saying he was a United States officer in the discharge of his duty.

There was no semblance of an attempt to molest him at any time.

Constable Walker took Deputy Nagle from the train at Tracy, and proceeded with him to Stockton, where he is now in jail.

District Attorney White ordered the arrest of Field upon his arrival at San Francisco, and telegraphed the order to San Francisco.

David S. Terry was born in Todd county, Ky., in 1823. He served in the Texan army under Sam Houston. He came to California in 1849 and settled in Calaveras county. In 1855 he was elected justice of the supreme court of California on the Native American ticket, and upon the death of Chief Justice Murray in 1857 Judge Terry became chief justice. He was opposed to the vigilance committee of 1850, and stabbed one of the members of the committee who had attempted to arrest a friend of Terry's. Terry was held by the vigilantes, but afterwards was released. He killed Senator Broderick in 1859 as a result of political differences. In 1880 Terry was defeated as a Hancock elector, although his associates on the ticket were elected. On Sept. 8, 1888, he was sent to jail for six months for contempt of court by Justice Field.

Justice Field's Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The southern overland train arrived at the station in Oakland shortly after 11 o'clock. A great crowd had collected, telegraphic intelligence of the Lathrop tragedy having preceded the arrival of the train, and the sleeping car in which Justice Field was sitting was at once besieged by United States officials and newspaper men. Justice Field maintained his quiet demeanor and narrated to a press representative the following particulars of the shooting:

"I can tell you the story in a few words. For the last few months all manner of reports, both public and personal, have reached me that Judge Terry had threatened to subject me to some indignity if he should happen to meet me. This fact caused the United States marshal to decide to provide such protection as he could during my stay in this state. When I started for Los Angeles to hold court, Deputy Nagle accompanied me. He seemed to be a quiet, gentlemanly official, though I only met him twice while away from Los Angeles. He asked me in that city when I intended to return, and accompanied me, taking a seat in the sleeping car opposite to me. We heard this morning that Judge Terry and his wife were on the train, but paid no attention to the fact. When we arrived at Lathrop we entered the dining station to get breakfast. I took a seat at the end of the table. Nagle sat on one side of me. Terry and his wife came in the room soon after. As soon as Mrs. Terry saw me she went out of the room, as I afterward learned, returning to the car for her satchel. Judge Terry rose, and I supposed he intended accompanying her. Instead of doing so, he walked back of me and struck me a heavy slap in the face. I was completely astonished and, seeing he was making ready to strike again, Nagle cried out, "Stop, stop," but Terry did not desist, and as he was raising his arm a second time, Nagle shot at him, the bullet entering his heart. He fell to the floor, Nagle shooting a second time, but the second shot not striking him. Nagle was arrested at Tracy and taken to Stockton to await the result of the inquest. That is the complete story so far as I am aware of the facts."

Protection was accorded to Justice Field, it is claimed, by authority of United States Attorney General Miller, who telegraphed from Washington to the marshal of the district to see that the person of the justice was protected at any hazard. The order extended also to Judge Sawyer, of the United States circuit court, in this city, upon whom Mrs. Terry made a personal assault last year, while on a railway train, accompanied by Judge Terry. The order was based upon this fact and upon threats declared to have been made openly by Terry against Justice Field. Deputy Marshal Nagle was directed to accompany Justice Field, under this order, and is said to have given Judge Terry full warning to stop when the latter began his attack upon Justice Field, and fired at Terry as the latter was about to strike a second time. Justice Field left the overland train at the Oakland ferry, and drove at once to the Palace hotel, where he was joined by his wife. He was not arrested, and the notice to the chief of police, claimed to have been sent by the district attorney of San Joaquin, if forwarded, was not acted upon.

A passenger who was on the train at Lathrop says that when he heard the shooting he rushed out of the car and saw Mrs. Terry with a satchel in her hand. She was trying to open it and he took it from her. She tried to regain possession of it but failed. When the satchel was opened afterward a pistol was found in it.

David Nagle, who killed Terry, is well known here. In the latter part of the '70's he went to Arizona and in 1881 was appointed chief of police of Tombstone. While occupying that office he had frequent encounters with the criminal element and soon earned a reputation for bravery and daring. Among other exploits was his killing of a noted Mexican desperado after a fierce personal contest. Nagle was made deputy marshal here a year ago. It was he who dismissed Terry last September when the ex-justice assaulted Marshal Frauks. When it was determined to furnish Justice Field with a bodyguard Nagle was selected for the work. Nagle is 35 years old and has a wife and family here.

Among the passengers on the southern overland train was Col. H. G. Otis, editor of The Los Angeles Times. After describing the shooting, Mr. Otis says: "I happen to know that the deputy marshal was acting under direct written instructions from the attorney general to protect the persons of Judges Field and Sawyer at all hazards. In conversation with me Justice Field had said he was not responsible for the constant attendance of the deputy, and was rather annoyed at it, but the officer insisted upon carrying out his instructions to the letter. Justice Field told me he was not armed; he was frequently urged to arm himself, but would never do so, and had declared that when it became necessary for a justice of the supreme court to go about in the performance of his duty carrying firearms with which to protect his person it would be time to abolish our courts."

The Feeling in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The announcement that ex-Judge Terry had been shot and killed at Lathrop caused extraordinary excitement in this city. The scene of the tragedy is eighty-three miles from this city by rail, and is the breakfasting station for the southern overland train. The possibility of an encounter between Terry and Justice Field has been recognized ever since the imprisonment of Terry for contempt of court, owing to the well known temper of the man.

Terry has always been a prominent figure in the political history of the state. His killing of Senator Broderick years ago caused at the time deep personal resentment against Terry by a portion of the people of the state, which threatened to terminate his career in California; but he always had a number of adherents, and remained in the state though he has only once or twice been before the people for position.

Newspaper articles have been printed lately intimating that it would be dangerous for Justice Field and Judge Terry to meet personally, as it was thought the latter might insult the former, while the fact was also recognized that Justice Field, being quick to resent an attack from Terry, knowing it could only result fatally to one or the other, in view of Terry's record.

The Attorney General Intervened.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 15.—Attorney General Miller was found at his home on North Delaware street and asked concerning the command which he was quoted as having made to the marshal at San Francisco. "It was given out," said he, "under my directions in June. I think it was Justice Field, and I believe some others, brought to my mind the case, referring to the trouble there had been out there last summer, and saying that there would likely be trouble again this summer. There was danger that Judge Terry, who was stated to be a violent and desperate man, would very likely make a deadly assault upon Judge Field and Judge Sawyer, one or both of them, and that some precautions ought to be taken in the premises. I therefore called the attention of the marshal of that district to these statements, and told him it was due to the country and the courts that precaution should be taken to keep the peace and protect the courts and judges in the discharge of their duties; and that such a number of court officers should be employed as would accomplish this result; that the judges ought to be permitted to discharge their duties without danger and without malice. I also instructed him to consult the United States attorney and judges as to the course to be pursued in the premises.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Produces a Great Impression Upon the King of Italy and the People Generally.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Charles H. Wood, vice consul general to Rome, reports to the state department July 29 that Signor Enrico Copello, who formerly resided many years in the United States, has purchased the right to sell the Edison phonograph in Italy.

As a preliminary step to this enterprise the consul reports that Signor Copello visited Rome, bringing with him the first phonograph ever seen in the kingdom. It was exhibited before representatives of the press, of the senate and chamber of deputies, leading scientists and King Humbert. The king dictated a congratulatory message on the phonograph to the inventor, and requested Signor Copello to carry to Queen Margaret, at Venice, a phonograph message. There exhibition awakened great interest throughout the country, the vice consul says, and the columns of the press are filled with handsome tributes to Mr. Edison, and to the inventive genius of the American people generally.

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

The State Convention Fails to Agree on a Candidate for Governor.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 15.—Every county was represented in the Republican state convention, which was called to order by Chairman Beardsley, at 11:15 a. m. Hon. John N. Irwin, of Lee, was made temporary chairman, and P. H. Bristow, of Polk, secretary. B. I. Salinger, of Carroll, was made permanent chairman. Eleven ballots were taken for governor up to 6 o'clock when a recess was taken till 8 o'clock.

The first ballot resulted: V. C. Wheeler, 447; Hull, 410; Hutchinson, 209; Larrabee, 52; Crapo, 37. There was no material change until the ninth, when Hutchinson's vote reached 335, Hull's fell to 375 and Wheeler's to 424. On the 11th Hutchinson's vote dropped to 285, Hull's rose to 415 and Wheeler's to 435.

At 12:30 a. m. the convention adjourned until to-day. The twenty-second ballot stood: Hull, 446; Wheeler, 351; Hutchinson, 353.

EXTENSIVE PRAIRIE FIRES.

Several Thousand Acres Devastated in Montana.

MILES CITY, Mont., Aug. 15.—The prairies a few miles to north and southeast of here are on fire. The fires cover an area of several thousand acres. The timber north and south of the town, which are separate from each other, seem to have caught fire simultaneously and were probably struck by lightning Sunday evening. A body of men are preparing to go out to fight the flames. A heavy smoke is hanging over the town and the heat from the fires is very perceptible.

Extensive prairie fires are also raging in this county below, traveling towards Glendive, and it is feared that the range in that vicinity will be lost.

The President's Homeward Trip.

BATH, Me., Aug. 15.—The president left Bangor early yesterday morning, and was greeted on at the various stations on the way by considerable crowds. On reaching here the party were driven to Mr. Arthur Sewall's residence for lunch, and afterwards taken around the city to visit the various sights, including the shipping. The train left for Manchester about 5 o'clock. Before leaving the president made a few remarks to the people from the custom house steps.

Ice House Burned.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15.—Fire which broke out shortly before 1 o'clock this morning totally destroyed one of the Stone Lake Ice company's large ice ware houses at Linwood, and burned several freight laden cars that were standing on the railroad tracks adjacent. The house, which was a large, frame affair, was empty. Its destruction will entail a loss of at least $10,000, while the damage done to cars and freight will be probably equal to that amount.

Counting on Investigation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Civil Justice Ambrose Monell, who was counsel for Sheriff Plack in the recent fraudulent divorce proceedings, resigned yesterday from the general committee and organization committee of Tammany Hall. He requests a suspension of judgment as to the propriety of his course, and promises to show that he acted uprightly in the matter.

Refused to Resign.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 15.—Postmaster Sides last night requested the mail carriers attached to the Portsmouth postoffice to resign, their resignations to take effect Sept. 1. The carriers, with one exception, refused, preferring to receive their discharge from the postmaster general.

Lower Congo Basin.

An Interesting Report from Emory H. Taunt.

THE GREAT AFRICAN EXPLORER.

He States That Since His Former Report the Congo Free State Has Been Organized Into a Successful Government. Trade for the United States—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The department of state has received from Emory H. Taunt, the African explorer, who is commercial agent at Boma, Congo Free State, an interesting report on the Lower Congo basin.

EMORY H. TAUNT.

State has been perfected, and now a well equipped corps of officials, courts of law, postoffices, customs stations, a standing army of from 1,200 to 1,500 men, currency of gold, silver and copper, and in fact everything in proper shape to successfully conduct a well organized government are to be found.

Boma is the seat of government in Africa. About navigation Lieut. Taunt says: "There are at present no lights either at the mouth of the Congo, or on any point of the river. It has been proposed to establish one at Banana, and the matter is now under consideration. Vessels drawing twenty-one feet can ascend the river as far as Matodi, 175 miles from Banana, but here a pilot is an absolute necessity. There are beacons established at different points as far as Boma. Above Boma there is neither buoy or near beacon. The first large steamer to reach Matodi was the Luolaba, 1,850 tons, of the Liverpool line. This vessel made the trip in June, drawing twenty feet of water."

"At the present writing," Lieut. Taunt goes on to say, "the relations of the Congo free state with her neighbors are very satisfactory. There have been some disputes about the question of boundaries of the extreme eastern limits of the state in Central Africa, which I understand will be definitely settled during the proposed conference on African affairs, soon to be held in Brussels."

"I am not ready at this writing," he says, "to pass upon the prospect for American trade throughout the Congo valley. But I have as yet found no reason to change my reports, made in 1887, that there is no opening on or in the vicinity of the Lower Congo for an American firm to establish, with reasonable prospects of success. The consumption of cotton goods at present is very large, and when the Upper Congo is opened it will increase tenfold, for we (the United States) will then have the enormous trade of the Arabs of Central Africa in addition to the Congo natives. The question will then arise, can our American cotton manufacturers compete with Manchester?"

Lieut. Taunt concludes as follows: "I have no later information of Mr. Stanley's progress than that published in the public press. Mr. Stanley returned to his camp on the Arruwini last year, and with his rear guard started back to Lake Nyanzi. Up to June 1 last no further authentic news had been received at Boma. The general impression is that he will next be heard from on the east coast of Africa. June 1 official dispatches were received at Boma from the Upper Congo to the effect that Tibboho Tib, the Arab chief and slave trader, had left Stanley Falls with a large force to join Stanley, and was expected to act as mediator between him and the hostile Arabs of eastern Africa. At Banana I met Mr. Ward, now of Stanley's expedition. From Ward's account the sufferings of Stanley and his people have not been exaggerated. Starvation, sickness, hostile natives, dense jungles, in fact every African obstacle was encountered, but pluck and push carried the explorer through."

Lieut. Taunt is in Washington to remain a few days, and presented his report in person at the department.

Returning to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—William F. Wharton, first assistant secretary of state, has returned from a visit to Boston and to Beverly, Mass., and resumed his duties as acting secretary, relieving Assistant Secretary Moore.

Secretary Proctor has returned from Vermont. He will remain in the city until Saturday. On Tuesday next he has an appointment with Gen. Schofield at Bennington, and the next day they will inspect the barracks at Plattsburg, N. Y. Thursday the secretary will visit the encampment of the Vermont state militia at Randolph. Secretary Proctor denies that he will attend the Fletcher family reunion at Boston, on Aug. 28, which occasion he was announced as the principal speaker.

A Father Stabs His Son.

CHELSEA, Mich., Aug. 15.—A farmer named S. Seney, living two miles from here, quarreled with his son, Harvard, over a trifling matter last night and stabbed the boy in the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound. The young man was married and highly respected in this vicinity. The father has been arrested and locked up. Liquor is the supposed cause leading to the murder.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, AUG. 15, 1890.

The majority for Captain Sharp, for State Treasurer, is between 30,000 and 35,000.

FLEMING County will hold a primary election Saturday September 7th to select Democratic nominees to be elected in August, 1890.

HON. S. S. Cox, who has just returned to the East from a tour of the Territories, says that nothing can prevent Washington from going Democratic in October.

COLONEL E. POLK JOHNSON, the present incumbent, has announced himself as a candidate for re-election as Public Printer and Binder. He is a good man and a good public servant.

In the last Legislature, the Democratic opponents numbered 38. In the next, according to the latest returns, they will master but 21—14 in the House and 7 in the Senate—and four of the seven Senators are hold-overs.

MR. HALSTEAD, in his Cincinnati speech, said the male harvest hands in Germany, near where he stopped while there, received nineteen cents per day and the woman thirteen. Germany enjoys the blessings of a double and twisted protective tariff.

The vicissitudes of mountain politics were well illustrated by the recent election in Bell County. Colson, the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, carried the county by nearly 700 majority, while Asher, Democratic candidate for the Legislature, carried it by over 400 majority.

The New York Sun estimates that there are in that city 40,000 working women receiving wages so low that they must embrace vice, apply for charity or starve. Of course the wealthy christian ladies of the great city should mitigate this awful condition of things. The Greeks are at their door.

THERE is a movement on foot to organize a non-vote-buying league. The idea is to bind together enough men to hold the balance of power, who will hold themselves to vote against any candidate who spends money to be elected. This is not to be retroactive, but goes for all future contests.—Carlsruhe Mercury.

MR. RICHARD CROSSFIELD, elected Monday a member of the next House of Representatives from Anderson County, is a remarkable instance of what may be achieved by persistency. He has been a candidate for this office thirteen consecutive times. He promised his father fifty years ago that he would one day represent Anderson County in the Legislature, and he has faithfully kept his promise.

The Glasgow Times is properly enthusiastic in admiration of Kentucky saying: "Spend your money in Kentucky. Her mountains kiss the clouds. Her breezes are fresh, and pure and cool. Her waters are ice-cold and crystal-clear. Her mint-patches perfume the air. Her products are those of the temperate zone. Her daughters are beautiful and her sons gallant. The health-seeker and pleasure-seeker who leaves Kentucky deserves to be tanned by something else than the wind."

COL. JOHN L. SCOTT, a prominent attorney of Frankfort, has been for several days engaged in studying the returns on the Constitutional Convention vote. He was asked yesterday what he thought of the result and replied that he thought it was defeated. "I find," said he, "that in most of the counties where it has carried that the majorities are small, while in the larger counties in the Purchase the majorities are three and four against it; and these same counties in 1887 voted heavily for the convention. I find also that some of the mountain counties gave majorities against the convention. I think there is no doubt of the defeat of the proposition."

The Louisville Times says: "On the first Monday of next August each of the hundred Legislative districts in the State will elect one member of a Constitutional Convention to convene in Frankfort not later than the first week of the following November, and it is gratifying to note that the ablest and best men in the State are being brought forward for membership. In Logan County, for instance, it is understood that Hon. Wilber F. Browder, one of the purest men and ablest lawyers in the State, will be a candidate, and in other counties the people are turning, not to the professional politicians and pot hunters, but to the men best equipped by nature and culture for the proper discharge of the important duties that will devolve upon the convention. Let the press and the people, regardless of party affiliations, join hands in this good work and shut out the political slysters."

THE Greenup Gazette says: "The latest trust is a combination of the floaters at the election. In Bourbon County these vagabonds held a meeting in a saloon and decided to not take less than $20 each for their votes. They got this and even more, votes going up as high as $25. Again we are informed at a recent primary election in Mason County three votes sold at $510 spot cash. We are not advised whether there is a vote selling trust in Mason or not, but suppose there is from the price paid for votes. There is not a trust in Greenup County. Votes, here, when the market is dull and bidding slow, have sold for 25 cents each; they have brought as much as $20 at other times. It is owing to the demand and supply. The supply increases each year. Ten or fifteen years ago $100 would get every vote on the market. They attend our market now, and the result is, it takes, when the bidding is lively, several thousand dollars to purchase the stock on the market. Sometimes the stock is sold in herds and come cheaper than when sold separately. The blooded stock sells for about the same that scrubs do. No pedigree is required. A warranty is required, though. It is the only stock market in the world that maimed, spavined and wind-broken stock brings the same price per head as the sound and neat stock. This is a remarkable market."

EVERY election held since the high-tariff Harrison administration came into power has been in favor of the Democracy. The reason is very apparent—the taxation of consumers for the special benefit of manufacturers. As an instance of this, "Brainwood, Ill., which gave a majority for Harrison of 200, has just elected a Democratic Mayor by a majority of 178. The town is the center of the present coal mining troubles, and the men who were told that a vote for Harrison would better their condition are on the verge of starvation. The vote now is a gratifying indication that the laborer is rapidly opening his eyes to the fact that protection does not protect."

THE Nicholasville Democrat says: "Every man at some period of his life ought to be a candidate. It will make him polite and agreeable, two qualities that ought to be required by everybody. The trouble is they have to practice on the public. Some times calls in papers signed 'Many Democrats' are canards and rorbacks. They generally furnish mighty 'interestin' reading. A call on a man urging him not to run and frankly stating the reasons would be something new and pathetic!"

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER attempted to scale down the tariff on a lot of wicker baskets he recently imported, but failed and had to hand over the regular rate. This leads the Chicago News to remark that he is "enough of a free trader when he buys anything from abroad to kick vigorously against paying an import. There are lots of people who want to see the other fellows taxed for the good of the country, but who don't like to be taxed themselves."

THE Washington Post publishes the following "adieu" of the Democratic postmaster at Greenville, Georgia, sent in with his last money order statement: After three years, or thereabout, Williams is in and I am out. This last report to M. O. S. Will be found all O. K. I guess. To the victors belong the spoils; I'm back to private life and toils; To B. M. O. Joy and bliss Of the next world as well as this. May we both 'scape h-l and the d-l, Is the prayer of W. T. REVILL.

Tobacco growers, if you want to grow big, leafy tobacco, and the quality in demand this year, and a good quality in demand every year, observe three material points. Plow often, top about fourteen leaves and let your tobacco ripen thoroughly before cutting. The nonobservance of these three material points, or any one of them, will affect the price of your tobacco when you haul it to market.

NEVER SATISFIED.

A man in his carriage was riding along. A gaily dressed wife by his side; In seat and lace she looked like a queen, And he like a king in his pride.
A wood-sawyer stood in the streets as they passed. The carriage and couple he eyed. And he said, as he worked with a saw on a log, "I wish I was rich and could ride."
The man in the carriage remarked to his wife, "One thing I would give if I could; I'd give all my wealth for the strength and health Of the man who is sawing the wood."
A pretty young maid with a bundle of work, Whose face as the morning was fair, Went tripping along with a smile of delight, While humming a love-breathing air.
She looked in the carriage—a lady she saw, Arrayed in apparel so fine— And said in a whisper, "I wish in my heart Those satins and laces were mine."
The lady looked out on the maid with her work, So fair in her calico dress, And said, "I'd relinquish position and wealth, Her youth and beauty to possess."
Thus it is, with the world, whatever our lot, Our mind and our time we employ, In longing and sighing for what we have not— Ungrateful for what we enjoy.

Owen News: R. B. Turner sold to R. S. Miller seventeen head of cattle—three three-year-old steers, averaging twelve hundred pounds at 3 cents; one steer, 1250 pounds, at 3½ cents; thirteen steers, averaging 1250 pounds, at 3½ cents. A. G. Gross sold to same twenty-two head of cattle, four year-old steers, averaging nine hundred pounds, at 3 cents; four three-year-olds averaging one thousand pounds, at 3 cents; thirteen three-year-old steers, averaging 1100 pounds at 3½ cents; or one cow, 1250 pounds, at 2½ cents.

How to Live Long.

What is the secret of longevity? everybody will ask. Well, the chief feature of it appears to have been discovered long ago by Helma. "A man should be very careful," said that brilliant cynic, "in the choice of his forefathers." The great thing, in fact, to begin with is to come of a good stock—to have had a line of ancestors physically and mentally strong.

Then, we gather, the next step is to be born a woman, or more strictly speaking a female. "Women," Hufeland declares, "are more likely than men to become old." Of the fifty-two centenarians referred to by Dr. Humphry, thirty-six were of what is absurdly called "the weaker sex."

It is well, apparently, to be either a clergyman or a lawyer; such men live the longest. It would take too long to inquire why; suffice it that the statement carries conviction with it.

It is pleasant for many of us to know, on such good authority as Dr. Roosa's, that wealth does not necessarily insure prolonged existence. The poor ought to have every consolation possible, and it should gratify them to know that, if life is not so pleasant for them as for the rich, it is likely to be at least quite as long, if not longer. Moreover, a certain proportion of them may be still further gratified to learn—the average street boy will delight in it—that cleanliness is, seemingly, by no means essential to longevity. We read of a feminine centenarian who, according to Dr. Roosa, must have been "a singularly dirty person." She smeared her face with lard and thought if she washed she would be sure to take cold. But perhaps it would not be wise to argue too rigidly from even half a dozen cases of this sort. On the whole, to be clean appears to be rather a help to health.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Unintentional Cruelty.

The other night the Listener had a call from a friend who drove his own horse to the door and remained seated in his buggy while engaged in conversation. The Listener noticed that the horse from time to time tossed his head in the air, throwing his nose upward as he did so. It was possibly, the Listener thought at first, a mere movement of impatience on the part of a spirited horse; but presently, as the gentleman drove on, he noticed that the horse repeated the movement, with a sort of desperation, after he had started into a trot. It was simply a case of the cruel overhead check rein; the unfortunate animal, wearied almost beyond endurance by the ceaseless strain on his neck, continually threw his head upward in a vain attempt to ease the pressure. The gentleman who drove and owned this horse is by no means a hard hearted man. He is, on the contrary, well known among his friends to have the credit of many quiet acts of benevolence and genuine humanity. Since the merciful man is merciful to his beast, how can a humane man torture a horse that he is proud of and very likely fond of? Probably from sheer inattention to the matter. When a friend of the Listener ventured to loosen the overhead check rein of a horse on the street the other day the animal stretched out its neck with a groan of relief and touched his benefactor's face with his nose as if to express his gratitude. The owner of the animal witnessed the movement, and, instead of finding fault, he acknowledged that it had never occurred to him that the overhead check rein was painful to a horse.—Boston Transcript.

GREAT news for young old maids! The men of Tacoma, Washington, Ter., advertise for "women of marriageable age" to come out there and become wives. Here's an opportunity for old maids who have had "hundreds of offers" to try it again.

The Hotel Arlington, which was burned last Monday at Blue Licks, was erected on the same spot where the military institute was when Hon. James G. Blaine was professor. In the ante-bellum days the Blue Lick Springs was the Saratoga of the South, and the favorite resort of all the noted politicians and planters of the South.

FLYNN's show card with colors will be a novelty introduced at the Maysville fair next week. It will be issued in large size card form containing the official programme. PRESIDENT THOMPSON, of the State Board of Health, says that typhoid fever is undoubtedly produced by the entrance into the system of germs of disease thrown off in fetal matter. The medium by which this is conveyed is usually well water, and sometimes, ice, milk and other fluids. He recommends that the water should be boiled before using it for drinking purposes.

The people of Portsmouth believe in advertising a town, and have issued 5,000 copies of a handsome souvenir album containing some fifty photographic views of objects in and about the city, consisting of manufactories, Government buildings, churches, schools, residences etc. The album has received the official endorsement of the Board of Trade. This is one good way of advertising a town and bringing it to the notice of the outside world.

His stock of silverware is simply grand and persons desiring presents for weddings, birthdays, &c., can be easily accommodated. The diamond spectacles, as all are aware, are the best in the market, his lens are perfect, consequently glasses can be selected to suit the eyes of those in need of such an article.

SOUTH RIPLEY bids fair to become an important point. Work will soon be commenced on a handsome new store building. The ground for a church site has been offered free. It is said that the C. and O. Railway Company is negotiating to buy the ferry at that point from H. E. Huntington. The price asked is $15,000. The trade will in all probability be effected very soon. This will indeed prove a big thing for South Ripley, as the railroad company will evidently make it an important coaling station, and will build an incline down to the river to facilitate the loading of freight, besides other improvements under consideration. The company already owns several acres of land there, and will leave nothing undone to develop the resources of the place and increase its business.

Mr. Marshall Hall, son of Professor C. J. Hall, left to-day for Old Point Comfort, Baltimore, Washington City and other points on a pleasure trip.

Incidents of the Blue Licks Fire.
When the alarm was given the crowd became panic stricken, and it was a miracle that some one was not killed. One of the ladies at the hotel ran out on the steps in her night dress and cried in an excited manner: "Save me! Save me!" One of the young men in front of her said: "I'll do it. Jump," and she fell into his arms and was carried over to the other hotel.

President Roseberry, of the Agricultural Bank, of Paris, was also among the excited, and ran out into the yard in his night robe, and started on a dead run for home, twenty-two miles distant, but was headed by some of his friends. He arrived home wrapped in a linen handkerchief and duster.

Progress.
It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach, and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

The Kentuckian Citizen, of Paris, has this to say about a new town in Kentucky: "Elders Graham and Clay, of Lexington, greeted us as we boarded the train at Danville. They were en route from Cumberland Gap, and said: An English syndicate have laid out a town on the Kentucky side of the Cumberland Gap. There are now 700 or 800 workmen at work on the streets, stores, residences and hotels. Streets are three and one half to five miles in length; electric light contract let; street car line will be run by October 15th; 100 houses to be put up by October 1st; 100 residences by November 1st; a $4,000 three-story brick business house is to go up at once. The company is very liberal toward churches, giving lot, building stone, brick and lumber for good houses."

"No doubt of Middlesborough being a large place—possibly 40,000—will be 5,000 or 10,000, in two years. The company have plenty of money, pluck and energy. Polite officials show strangers every attention. The Gap tunnel was opened Friday."

"Elders Graham and Clay arrange for the establishment of a Christian Church there. The body had been organized and the erection of a church decided upon some time ago. Rev. Henry Miller, of Pineville, with sixteen members."

Boulanger's Crime.

The Senate Court Has Pronounced Judgment.

A DECREE OF IMPRISONMENT.

Boulanger, Dillon and Rochefort to be Deported to Some Fortified Island and Imprisoned—Efforts Made to Save the Life of Mrs. Maybrick—Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The senate court has pronounced judgment upon Gen. Boulanger, Count Dillon and Henri Rochefort. The accused are condemned to deportation to some fortified place and there held as prisoners.

The court decided that it was competent to try the charges of embezzlement against Gen. Boulanger, and found him guilty of the counts which accuse him of appropriating public funds. Efforts were made by partisans of Boulanger to have the court consider extenuating circumstances, but the court refused to admit that there were any.

The court adjourned in order to frame the text of the decree, which will be voted on in secret session and then read at a public sitting.

The different Republican groups in the senate held a meeting immediately after the adjournment of the court, and passed resolutions requesting the government to enforce the decree after the dissolution of the court. They called attention to the gravity of the conduct of some of the ministers in absenting themselves during the trial, and demanded that steps be taken to bring to justice the other officials implicated with Boulanger, Dillon and Rochefort in their treasonable plots for the subversion of the state.

The senate court also found Count Dillon and Henri Rochefort accomplices of Gen. Boulanger in a felonious attempt against the safety of the state. It also decided by a vote of 190 to 97 that the acts charged in the indictments against the accused, in connection with the presidential crisis in 1877, constituted a treasonable attempt. Gen. Campanon, senator for Nevilly-Sur-Seine, argued that the charge of embezzlement against Gen. Boulanger, had been proved.

Mele Royer, president of the senate, and M. Marguine, senator for the department of Maine, argued that the court was incompetent to try Gen. Boulanger on the charge of misappropriation of funds, and that the charge must be referred to the court martial.

Edison Ascents the Eiffel Tower.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Mr. Thomas A. Edison, accompanied by Mr. Russell Harrison, ascended the Eiffel tower Tuesday, and took luncheon at the summit. A number of artists from the opera were present, and sang into a phonograph, which afterward produced their airs.

It is stated that Queen Victoria has dispatched Col. Gouraud to Paris to present to Mr. Edison a photograph into which she had spoken, warmly congratulating the great American inventor.

King Humbert, of Italy, has appointed Mr. Thomas A. Edison a grand officer of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

Efforts to Save Mrs. Maybrick.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Fifty-two members of the house of commons have signed a memorial to the home secretary, urging clemency for Mrs. Maybrick. The official executioner, Berry, declares he will not hang Mrs. Maybrick.

Short Time Extended.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 15.—There is talk of resorting to short time in the cotton mills four weeks longer.

Strong Petition for Executive Clemency.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 15.—An exceedingly strong petition has been filed with Governor Hovey asking for the commutation of the sentence of William Benson, the Clark county murderer, who is to suffer death on Friday. So far the executive has not signified his intentions, but there is a belief that he may act at the last moment. Benson's offense was not mitigated by any circumstances that can justify clemency, but a sentiment has been created in his favor that may save his neck.

Epidemic of Diphtheria.

AUBURN, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Aurora, Cayuga county, is much excited over the prevalence of diphtheria. In one family five deaths have occurred since last Thursday, when the 16-year-old daughter of Bernard McMann, a farmer living south of the village died, and since that his wife and three children have died and two others are still sick with no hope of recovery. CHIEF OF POLICE SHOT

By Negroes at Jackson, Tenn.—Several Lynchings Probable if He Dies.

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 15.—About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, as Chief of Police Gaston was walking around the jail, he was fired upon by negroes, receiving ten buckshot in his face and chest.

Several negroes were lying around the jail in the weeds and grass, supposing that the negro porter of the Arlington hotel, who is in jail for assisting a young white girl to elope, was to be lynched during the night. When discovered by Gaston they started to run, and being fired upon, returned the fire with the above result.

Gaston is still alive, and some hopes are expressed for his recovery. Race and Freeman Kelly, Jim Lackey, Maj. Lee and Elijah Howard are under arrest.

The last two were captured on the spot. Frank Shaw, who is still at large, told a woman after the shooting that he was the man who shot Gaston. Several Winchester rifles were captured, and it is learned that a negro here has been receiving them for some time. Lynching is feared if Gaston dies.

THE COKERS' STRIKE.

About Twenty-Five Hundred Ovens are Yet Idle.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., Aug. 15.—About thirty non-union men are working at W. J. Rainey's Moyer works to-day. The regular employees at Moyer are on strike until Mr. Rainey shall have signed the new scale for his Pott and Fort Hill works also. Pinkerton guards are on duty at Moyer. Several of the independent operatives signed the scale last evening.

J. W. Moore & Company's mammoth works, 394 ovens, are the only large operators that have not signed the scale. About 2,500 ovens are yet idle in the entire region. There are no indications that rioting or acts of violence will be renewed. All is quiet to-day.

One More Unfortunate.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 15.—At about 8 o'clock yesterday morning a woman named May Goodrich, 30 years old, was found dead in bed at the Foresters hotel. A two-ounce vial, half filled with chloroform, explained the cause of death. On the table was a letter as follows: "If dead when found send my body to my father, Mr. William Silby, Windsor, Ont. Don't make a public show of me: some of you may have a son or daughter that may some day meet with misfortune."

Looking After the Indians.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Indian Commissioner Morgan left Washington yesterday for Carlisle, Pa., where he will remain a week at the Carlisle Indian industrial school, familiarizing himself with its workings. Many of the boys and girls at this school hire out to farmers in the surrounding country, during the summer. He will visit these also, and see that they are with proper people and are gaining a practical knowledge of farm work. Mr. Morgan, while away, will attend the reunion of the Seventieth Indiana regiment, President Harrison's old command, at Indianapolis, and return to the city about Sept. 1.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 15.—In the session of the National convention of Foresters there was considerable heat developed over the question of railway fares of delegates. A resolution was introduced calling for the addition of two more members to the committee having this matter in charge. The fight appears to be between the eastern and western delegates. The discussion and calling of the roll occupied nearly the whole morning.

A Youthful Murderer.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 15.—Last evening James Bennett, aged 12, shot Willie Hawkes, aged 12, of Boston, who is visiting here. Hearing revolver shots Hawkins ascended a small hill and Bennett fired at him, the ball entering the brain. Bennett was arrested. He says he found the revolver loaded. At 11 p. m. Hawkins was alive, but his physicians have no hope of his recovery.
